2015-16: Antas 2016- 04/12/2015 to 10/12/2015

2015 REPORT- (ANNUAL FESTIVAL OF HINDI DEPARTMENT):

HINDI SAHITYA, SANGEET AND NATYA ACADEMY

The academy held its annual programme-Antas, in the college, from 4 to 10 December this year. Three departments were responsible for organising this programme Music, Literature and Drama. The three departments gave a platform to the emerging artists, in their own unique styles. The marketing team contributed to bring order in the organisation of the event.

Antas commenced on 4 of December when the Intercollegiate AshuBhashan competition by the Literature Department was organised. 25 colleges of Mumbai were invited to participate in this event. Students' general knowledge along with their knowledge in Literature and Media were judged in this competition. Apart from this, the students were required to give a speech on the topic- "Gandhi ke desh main Khadi". The competition's first prize was secured by a student of St. Xavier's College and the second prize was secured by a student of Wilson College.

The Antakshari organised by the music department, on 5th of December, enamoured everyone. More than 30 students participated in this competition. Their knowledge on films and songs pertaining to the films were judged in this competition.

The "Kavi Sammelan" organised by the Literature department on 7th December gave an opportunity to budding writers and poets, to present their original compositions. More than 50 poets and audience members attended this conference including professors. The beauty with which the words of the poems were written and recited, elated the audience. On 8th and 9th of December, the „ekanki” organised by the Drama department, observed 6 drama performances. These performances, based on varied topics and subjects, gave a platform to the aspiring college writers, directors and actors to showcase their talent and skills. These two days, more than 800 on-lookers fostered these emerging artists. The „ekanki” had the valuable presence of KVIC's senior official, TV actor, Mr. Imran Hasni and Mr. Anirudh Pathak from Star TV. On the last day of the Antas programme, 10th December, the Music department organised the most desired event of the college-Bollywood Orchestra. 20 students from our college, who worked extremely hard for over two months, charmed the entire audience with their performance that day. Our college hall was crowded with people for this event. A few professors of our college also performed a song that day. People danced profusely to the tune of the most popular and beloved songs of 2015, for 2 whole hours.

ITHAKA 2015: A Report

Ithaka 2015 was warmly received by its audience. With a total of 8 shows and 7 performances over its three day span between 30th November through the 1st and 2nd December, Ithaka catered to an audience of more than 1,400 people. The fest put up performances ranging from a variety of genres including comedy, thrillers, romance, historical fiction, and the macabre. Thus Ithaka managed to retain its status as a diverse and powerful theatre and drama festival for one and all.

Ithaka's workforce numbered around 250 individuals in all, and provided an avenue for the showcasing of student talent beyond directing, acting, and scriptwriting; its departments included Marketing, Public Relations, Creatives, Photography & Documentation, Events, Technicals, and Production. The collective skills required to put up a fest of the magnitude and scale of Ithaka included, but are not limited to, design, project and venue management, public relations, and corporate relations and communications, and Ithaka's workforce rose to the occasion.

In its attempt to provide a platform for unique and quirky skills, Ithaka's Events department managed three events this year, including Movie Fights, where contestants were pitted against each other to debate upon alternative situations from famous movies, Troubadour Tuesday in association with Open Sky Slam, where an open for all venue was provided for people from and outside campus to sing, perform, dance, or act as they liked, and Poetry Baithak, where poetry was showcased and performed. All of Ithaka's events drew crowds in large numbers, and the venues for all three were packed.

Ithaka was also offered an opportunity to put up two of its student performances at the National Centre for Performing Arts (NCPA) Godrej Theatre, which drew a sizeable crowd. 'Art' by Meghana Telang and 'Wit' by Kamya Nair were the play and sketch respectively that were put up at NCPA. Ithaka 2015 was a memorable festival for one and all involved.
